Kanji characters migrating from 4th and 5th grades to 6th grade

* Listed below is an English translation of the newly added kanji characters and sample sentences, as well as modified sample sentences, in the new revision of Kanji Daisuki (6) based on NEXT's updated Curriculum Formulation.

- ** Reading Chapter vocabulary on top and Writing Chapter vocabulary on bottom
- *** [R] stands for Reading Practice. [W] stands for Writing Chapter (sample sentences for learning kanji) or Writing Practice.

**** Page numbers are for corresponding pages in the new revision of Kanji Daisuki (6).

			urribers are for corresponding page
			1	le de la companya de
stomach and intestines are in good shape.	[R]	p.5	The stomach	stomach and intestines are in good shape.	[R]	p.5
Show me your tongue.	[W]	p.91		The stomach is on the upper side of the abdomen.	[W]	p.92
When [we are] healthy, the color of the tongue is red, but it turns to white when [we] catch a cold.	[W]	p.97	1189-11	I ate too much. I have a slight stomachache.	[W]	p.96
Look at someone's tongue to see if his or her	[R]	p.5
The intestine/s is/are long.	[W]	p.92
There are [two intestines], the large intestine and the small intestine.	[W]	p.97
In the past, apparently there was a smaller currency unit below the yen: the sen. "A taxi ride cost thirty yen", said my grandmother.	[R]	p.18	Mother agreed to it / Mother is aware	"Shochi shimashita," means I understand very well.	[R]	p.18
Two 50 sen coins make 1 yen.	[W]	p.109		To have someone agree [to something]/ to allow	[W]	p.109
My grandfather said, "This is old money and is called 10 sen", and showed me [some] coins made of copper.	[W]	p.112	Agree	My mother allowed me to have a dog.	[W]	p.112
When I visited a temple, I prayed for my family to be forever happy and healthy.	[R]	p.17
		p.13
		p.28
Both teams played really well at the game today.	[R]	p.45	Arena/sumo ring	The crowd got excited and erupted in cheers, when	[R]	p.45
Enemies and allies	H					p.137
In class we learned, "Yesterday's enemy is today's	H					p.139
	H		The ring
		'
On Sunday I visited a temple which is a national			1	We visited temples in Nara and Kvoto on our school treasure. This temple is also preciously protected as	[R]	p.67		trip. We saw Buddhist sculptures and paintings in		p.153
Early departure is to leave school earlier than usual.	[R]	p.74
Mari-chan left [school] early.	[W]	p.160	]
I developed a headache around the second period, so I left [school] early.	[W]	p.162
Every day, we take turns to keep the class journal. Tanaka's turn comes before me; his writing is interesting.	[R]	p.74
	Show me your tongue.  When [we are] healthy, the color of the tongue is red, but it turns to white when [we] catch a cold.  Look at someone's tongue to see if his or her stomach and intestines are in good shape.  The intestine/s is/are long.  There are [two intestines], the large intestine and the small intestine.  In the past, apparently there was a smaller currency unit below the yen: the sen. "A taxi ride cost thirty yen", said my grandmother.  Two 50 sen coins make 1 yen.  My grandfather said, "This is old money and is called 10 sen", and showed me [some] coins made of copper.  When I visited a temple, I prayed for my family to be forever happy and healthy.  Both teams played really well at the game today.  Enemies and allies  In class we learned, "Yesterday's enemy is today's friend." Several examples in history illustrate this.  Please wear comfortable clothes for the excursion.  On Sunday I visited a temple which is a national treasure. This temple is also preciously protected as a cultural asset.  Early departure is to leave school earlier than usual.  Mari-chan left [school] early.  I developed a headache around the second period, so I left [school] early.  Very day, we take turns to keep the class journal.  Tanaka's turn comes before me; his writing is	Look at someone's tongue to see if his or her stomach and intestines are in good shape.  Show me your tongue.  When [we are] healthy, the color of the tongue is red, but it turns to white when [we] catch a cold.  Look at someone's tongue to see if his or her stomach and intestines are in good shape.  The intestine/s is/are long.  There are [two intestines], the large intestine and the small intestine.  In the past, apparently there was a smaller currency unit below the yen: the sen. "A taxi ride cost thirty yen", said my grandmother.  Two 50 sen coins make 1 yen.  My grandfather said, "This is old money and is called 10 sen", and showed me [some] coins made of copper.  When I visited a temple, I prayed for my family to be forever happy and healthy.  Both teams played really well at the game today.  Enemies and allies  In class we learned, "Yesterday's enemy is today's friend." Several examples in history illustrate this.  Please wear comfortable clothes for the excursion.  R)  On Sunday I visited a temple which is a national treasure. This temple is also preciously protected as a cultural asset.  Early departure is to leave school earlier than usual.  R)  Mari-chan left [school] early.  I developed a headache around the second period, so I left [school] early.  I developed a headache around the second period, so I left [school] early.  Every day, we take turns to keep the class journal.  Tanaka's turn comes before me; his writing is  [R]	Look at someone's tongue to see if his or her stomach and intestines are in good shape.  Show me your tongue.  When [we are] healthy, the color of the tongue is red, but it turns to white when [we] catch a cold. Look at someone's tongue to see if his or her stomach and intestines are in good shape.  The intestine/s is/are long.  There are [two intestines], the large intestine and the small intestine.  In the past, apparently there was a smaller currency unit below the yen: the sen. "A taxi ride cost thirty yen", said my grandmother.  Two 50 sen coins make 1 yen.  My grandfather said, "This is old money and is called 10 sen", and showed me [some] coins made of copper.  When I visited a temple, I prayed for my family to be forever happy and healthy.  Both teams played really well at the game today.  Enemies and allies  In class we learned, "Yesterday's enemy is today's friend." Several examples in history illustrate this.  Please wear comfortable clothes for the excursion.  Right p.45  Early departure is to leave school earlier than usual.  Early departure is to leave school earlier than usual.  Right p.74  Mari-chan left [school] early.  Level yday, we take turns to keep the class journal.  Tanaka's turn comes before me; his writing is  Right p.74  Right p.5  Right p.5  In p.7  In p	Look at someone's tongue to see if his or her stomach and intestines are in good shape.  Show me your tongue.  When [we are] healthy, the color of the tongue is red, but it turns to white when [we] catch a cold. Look at someone's tongue to see if his or her stomach and intestines are in good shape.  The intestine's is/are long.  In the past, apparently there was a smaller currency unit below the yen: the sen. "A taxi ride cost thirty yen," said my grandmother.  Two 50 sen coins make 1 yen.  My grandfather said, "This is old money and is called 10 sen", and showed me [some] coins made of copper.  When I visited a temple, I prayed for my family to be forever happy and healthy.  Both teams played really well at the game today.  Enemies and allies  In class we learned, "Yesterday's enemy is today's friend." Several examples in history illustrate this.  Please wear comfortable clothes for the excursion.  Replay by part of the interpolation of the excursion.  On Sunday I visited a temple which is a national treasure. This temple is also preciously protected as a cultural asset.  Early departure is to leave school earlier than usual.  Replay departure is to leave school earlier than usual.  Replay departure is to leave school earlier than usual.  Replay departure is to leave school earlier than usual.  Replay departure is to leave school earlier than usual.  Replay departure is to leave school earlier than usual.  Replay departure is to leave school earlier than usual.  Replay departure is to leave school earlier than usual.  Replay departure is to leave school earlier than usual.  Replay departure is to leave school earlier than usual.  Replay departure is to leave school earlier than usual.  Replay departure is to leave school earlier than usual.  Replay departure is to leave school earlier than usual.  Replay	Look at someone's torquia to seal fits or her someone storquia to seal fits or her someone and intestines are in good shape.    Post	Cook at someone's tongue to see if his or her someone's tongue.  When (we are) healthy, the color of the tongue is each but inturns to white when lwel packs a cold cook at someone's tongue to see if his or her someone and intestines are in good shape. The someone and intestines are in good shape. The someone and intestines are not someone and the someone and intestines are in good shape. The someone and intestines are not someone as someone and the someone and intestines are in the someone and the

Chapter 13
To buy a train ticket	As I have to go to Hiroshima, and am buying a round-trip ticket. I checked the train times and fares on the Shinkansen timetable guide. The fare have gone up.	[R]	p.85		As my father less work, his income has decreased. My allowance was cut back too. I'm in trouble. I am handing my money over to my mother, so that I will not spend it all.	[R]	p.85
Voucher / (Food ticket /	To buy a voucher for a curry-and-rice meal	[W]	p.170		To deposit money	[W]	p.172
Meal voucher)				Deposit	Large stations have coin lockers for people to leave their luggage.	[W]	p.175
Save someone's life/ Owe one's life to someone	When I was almost drowning at sea, Tom's father rescued me. Tom's father saved my life.	[R]	p.86
	I owe my life to this person.	[W]	p.172
Benefactor	Tom's father saved my brother's life.	[W]	p.175

6th Grade Kanji

p.202

- 139. Food tastes great, when my digestive system is in good order.
- 140. Check someone's tongue to see if he or she is healthy.
- 141. "Sen" is an old currency.
- 142. The class breaks up into two competing teams, whenever there is a game.
- 143. Sumo wrestlers sprinkle salt on the sumo ring.
- 144. I left school early, because I had a stomach ache.
- 145. I purchased a round-trip shinkansen ticket.
- 146. My mother agreed to let me get a dog.